STATE CONTRACTS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF LAKE WATERS

Pregenzer Gets Dredging Job in First Step to Bet- ter Waterways

The first step to deepen and free from weeds the waterways of the Fox River and Lakes Region was started Friday when contracts were let by the State department of public works for dredging more than two miles of one hundred-foot channels on Pistakee Lake.

This was announced yesterday by William M. Marks of Lake Villa, secretary of the Waterways Improvement association of Northern Illinois who explained that Ray Pregenzer and Sons, dredging contractors of Antioch, were awarded the contract as the lowest bidders.

Start Dredging Immediately
According to Robert Klingery, director of the Illinois Division of Waterways, the dredging is to start as soon as possible with a one hundred-foot channel on Pistakee Lake through the bridge on Route 60 to Point Comfort and on to Kildee hence out into Fox Lake.

Tentative plans of the state, Klingery explained, include this contract as the initial move to improve the natural bodies of water throughout the Lakes Region.

John R. Dewsen, president of the Waterways Improvement group, who has been directing the fight for these improvements, declared that he is more than satisfied that once the State starts with work it will continue the program proposed.

Improvements Needed
The Waterways Improvement association is an organization of permanent and summer residents of the Lakes Region who have been directing their efforts toward the preservation and improvement of the State waterways and lakes for the past few years.

It has been pointed out that in addition to conserving the fish and game to which these waterway improvements are necessary, the economic and recreational advantages of the Fox river and the thousands of acres of water in the area is impaired without immediate improvements.

Health to be Topic at Antioch P.T.A. Meeting Next Week

"Health" is the principal topic to be discussed at the regular meeting of the Antioch Grade school parent-teacher association to be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock. It is announced by Mrs. Herb Vos, chairman of the program committee.

Arrangements are underway to have a prominent member of the State health department to lead the health discussions and it is hoped that Dr. Frank J. Jirka will be able to be present. Richard Martin of Millburn will give several dramatic readings as part of the evening's entertainment.

During the business of the meeting, Dr. L. John Zimmerman and Mrs. W. J. Anderson will be installed as president and vice president, respectively. The new president plans to announce his appointments to the standing committees following the installation. Dr. Zimmerman, who was elected vice president at the regular election, was elevated to the presidency at a recent special election to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Ernestine Robbins.

State Receives Bids on Institution Buildings

Bids for construction of new State institution buildings at Kankakee, Jacksonville, Carbondale and Chicago, as proposed in Governor Henry Horner's PWA program, have been received by the State Division of Architecture and Engineering, Department of Public Works and Buildings. The three low bids on each project will be submitted to Washington PWA authorities for approval before contracts are awarded. The federal government grant for the projects will total 15 per cent of the cost.

Rumors of Antioch's $4,800 WPA Project Are Still Rumors

Although it was reported this week that Antioch will receive an appropriation of $4,800 for a Works Progress Administration project, no official confirmation has been received from the WPA office by the village board to date. While the report did not state the name of the project on which the $4,800 is to apply, it is thought that the money may probably be coming for the sidewalk repair and construction project submitted to the federal government prior to the WPA deadline on projects last month.

29th Annual Christmas Seal Sale Launched In County Friday

Once again 13,327 people in Lake County were asked to put their Christmas spirit to a useful service for humanity as the 29th Annual Christmas Seal Sale opened last Friday. Letters containing the seals were sent out into every community in the county.

Mrs. Anslin H. Niblack, President of the Tuberculosis Association, in commenting on the returns received to date, stated that it was too early in the campaign to forecast the possible outcome but expressed hope that the goal of $38,000 will be raised in Lake county. This amount is necessary to expand the program of the Association to meet the present demands.

Letters containing dollar bills, money orders, and checks are being returned to the office of the Association. Those who have not already sent in their contribution are asked to do so at once.

Your contribution is asked only once a year but the proceeds from the seals work all the year.

Bill "Murder Mansion" as Next Attraction of Rotnour Players

Piercing screams, blood-curdling cries, spooks in the dark, eerie chills, and all the other mystery sound-effects are scheduled for the customers Friday (tomorrow) night on the stage of the Crystal theatre when J. B. Rotnour and his troupe of players present "Murder Mansion."

Each week since the troupe opened its winter season here the management has been forced to "turn them away" because even the standing room has been "sold out." The plays are sponsored by Antioch merchants and businessmen who are giving away free tickets with purchases at their stores. The Crystal theatre advertisement in this issue of The Antioch News lists these sponsors.

Alford Gains in New Vote Recount for County Clerk

Waukegan, which has gained national recognition for recounts among other items, opened the recount last night again this week with the Alford-Heedee tussle to decide who was elected county clerk at the election more than a year ago. With Benton and Zion townships checked again, results indicate a gain of at least seven votes for County Clerk Russ Alford while former County Clerk Lew A. Heedee lost five votes in these same precincts as compared to the official canvass. At the present rate of progress in the counting room, completion of the county clerk recount may be finished by the first of the year. It is explained by the election commissioners.

Rabbits Threaten Exposed Trees in State's Orchards

Rabbits are so numerous in some sections of Illinois this winter that thousands of fruit trees may be damaged unless they are made rabbit-proof before the first heavy snows, according to R. S. Marsh, of the horticultural department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Heavy snows not only cut off other food supplies of the rabbits, but also make it possible for them to reach the upper trunks and crowns of fruit trees to nibble at bark which they seem to relish, he said. Heavy roofing paper, wood veneer or hardware cloth may be used for protective barriers around the trees. The material should be wrapped around the trunk of the tree from the base up to at least 20 or 30 inches above the ground. The deeper the snow is likely to be, the higher the barriers should be, Marsh said.

A Month of Miracles

HOLD SELBY FUNERAL IN ANTIOCH TODAY

Aged Railroad Man Dies at Daughter's Home in Antioch

Funeral services were held this afternoon at Strank's chapel for George Selby whose death at the age of 82 years occurred Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Kentman, with whom he had made his home for the past two years. Ray S. E. Pollock has charge of the service, and interment was in Winnetka cemetery.

The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Selby, and he was born in Dorsetshire, England, Nov. 4, 1853. At the age of one year he came to America with his parents. On the 3rd of January, 1872, he was married to Anna Runyard, and the couple resided at Silver Lake, Wis. for nearly fifty years where Mr. Selby had employment with the Soo Line railroad. His wife preceded him in death 11 years ago. The couple were the parents of four children, all of whom are living: Charles, of Bristol, Wis.; Mrs. Anna Schulz, of Bristol, Wis.; Mrs. Beale Finch, Elkhorn, and Mrs. Olive Keniman, of Antioch. There are 16 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Warns Against Slough Fires

It is not only unlawful and expensive to start slough fires, but strictly against the sportsman's code, is the statement from the state department on the conservation of fish and game in warning that the legislation against slough fires will be enforced against all offenders.

With the state now releasing hundreds of pheasants for propagation in northern Illinois and principally in the Lakes Region, the authorities point out that these game birds require the natural cover of these marshes for habitation. Reports have been registered with the law enforcement bodies that some so-called sportsmen have been setting fire to sloughs in an effort to chase rabbits, other fur-bearing animals and game birds into the open for an unethical blast from their shotguns.

Fire Chief James Stearns of the Antioch fire department discloses that while slough fires may not seem hazardous they have caused considerable trouble and expense to the department.

Tells Early History of Methodism in Village of Antioch

(By Mrs. Addie Williams)
I thought it might be of interest to the friends of this M. E. church to hear something about the real pioneers of its existence.

So to go away back I will tell you a little about people of whom many of you have never even heard. You all know that the first M. E. church was erected by the Baptists. But the Baptists became too few in numbers to maintain regular church services. Then a very few but very zealous Methodists would get a Methodist preacher to come and conduct services two or three times a year and usually on Sunday afternoon.

Those people were: Mr. and Mrs. Stephen French, Mrs. Andrew Marshall and my own stepmother. That's about all. I am going to say the most about Mr. and Mrs. French. Such good people! I think Granddad French was my greatest inspiration toward Methodism. A sweet little woman. I believe the mother of 16 children, and afterwards bringing up a motherless grandchild.

I never heard one evil word spoken by Mr. or Mrs. French about anybody, and I knew their very intimately. They were always poor people—but no complaints—or envy, or false pride ever marred their happiness. Mrs. French found time to run in and see if we young and green mothers were taking proper care of our families. Always kind, sincere and truly religious.

Do some of you remember the little old house where the telephone office is now located? The little front yard was packed with yellow roses and lilacs of the valley. There was also a little back garden where Mr. French always a cripple from rheumatism—crawled on his hands and knees to tend his vegetable garden. He once said to me, "No man should own one foot of ground that he cannot make use of to some good purpose."

Grandma French told me that sometimes after attending prayer meeting she would lie awake for hours enjoying herself, just going over again in her mind one hymn or testimony that she had heard in the meeting. Sounds odd, doesn't it? Going home from prayer meeting, too happy to sleep!

Mrs. Marshall was the grandmother of Attorney Eugene Runyard of Waukegan. A grand old lady, too. After a time a family by the name of Richardson came into town, also, Methodists (Mrs. Lolly Burnett's parents). They, too, wanted a Methodist church.

Finally when dear old Amasa Burnett moved into Antioch Methodism broke loose. Whatever of good has been done by this church we owe in a great measure to those old saints.

In her last illness Mrs. French handed me a five dollar bill to be paid to the Methodist preacher who should preach her funeral sermon. She also told me what hymns she wanted to have them sing. These people surely had their feet planted on the "Rock of Ages" and could so sincerely sing: "Could my tears forever flow, Could my zeal no languor know, These for sin could not atone— Thou canst help and Thou alone. In my hand no price I bring, Simply to Thy cross I cling."

Grade School Cagers Play Three Overtimes at Mundelein; Tie 13-13

After playing a regulation game plus three overtime periods last week, the basket ball teams from the Antioch and Mundelein grade schools opened the conference season on the latter's court with a 13 to 13 deadlock. But while the first teams of the school struggled through the extra sessions to remain equal, the Antioch "B" squad took charge of their Mundelein rivals to bring home a 14 to 11 verdict.

LAKE CO. W.P.A. PROJECTS HIRE 1,382 WORKERS

Federal Heads Shift 11,969 Family Heads from Re- lief in N. Illinois

Replacement of the federal dolo with works progress administration jobs effective Dec. 1, found 1,382 Lake county family heads with places on the WPA payroll. District Director Morgan Ipsen of Rockford announced today.

In twenty-one northern Illinois counties of District one, the works progress administration itself had 11,969 actually working as direct federal relief ended. Additional thousands were working on PWA, war department and agricultural department projects, and highway, bridge, and grade separation construction supported by the $4,800,000,000 work fund but not directly under WPA supervision.

2,000 Workers Rejected
When reassignment of approximately 2,000 workers rejected by project foreman because of physical disability to do work assigned is completed, the district will have 13,000 to 14,000 men on actual WPA assignments, with the remainder of its employable relief clients working for other federal agencies. If light tasks can be found for the 2,000 on non-construction projects they will be reassigned; otherwise they will be returned to state relief rolls.

Drafting payrolls and writing pay checks for the huge working army became the most urgent and difficult administrative problem facing WPA officials as the shift from relief to jobs was made. Although pay rolls in some instances have been held up as long as ten days by the temporary jam in WPA's state finance office, steps were taken early this week to break the jam and Ipsen said future wage employment would be made promptly. Double or triple shifts will man payroll departments in both the district office at Rockford and the state office at Chicago.

Write 12,000 Checks
Twelve thousand pay checks must now be written every two weeks in district one, with workers divided as follows among the twenty-one counties: Boone, 226; Bureau, 533; Carroll, 139; DeKalb, 205; Grundy, 139; Henry, 524; Jo Daviess, 446; Kendall, 106; LaSalle, 2,053; Lake, 1,332; Lee, 319; Marshall, 179; McHenry, 286; Mercer, 181; Ogle, 263; Putnam, 115; Rock Island, 745; Stark, 93; Stephenson, 397; Whiteside, 424; Winnebago, 3,196.

According to the conference rules, each contestant will write a list of 250 words chosen from a list of 1,200. The team making 1000 will have a perfect record. Last year the Mundelein team was rated the highest.

SMARTER POLITICIANS

In the days of the Boston Tea Party the Colonists revolted against "Taxation without Representation" and the politicians didn't get away with it.

Today, we taxpayers have representations—in many cases cast our individual ballot.

But how much smarter the politicians have become. We are often led to the polls, blinded by fancy theories, to blandly cast a vote to tax somebody else, some special class. And when the taxes are gathered, they come right out of our own pockets.

Such are all special or class taxes. Tax the landlord, tax the peanut vendor, tax the merchants—the tax is paid by the tenant, the peanut muncher, the housewife.

Don't vote class taxes blindly.

The Literary Digest poll has never been wrong. Some wits have suggested that its pre-election polls be used to determine the winner, thus saving the government the vast expense attendant on a national election.

The Digest has now started a new poll on whether or not "You now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date." Not enough returns have yet been obtained to give a decisive answer—but results are interesting.

Forty thousand ballots from five states, all of which Mr. Roosevelt carried in 1932, show that 53 per cent of the voters are against the New Deal. A similar poll, carried on in early 1934, show that 61 per cent were favorable.

THE FARMERS OF TOMORROW

One of the more interesting phases of farm cooperative work lies in the encouragement and knowledge given young farm folks.

Contests are held for livestock and crops raised by these budding farmers. Instruction is given them in scientific farming, marketing and distributing. There is an opportunity that few of their forbears had.

The result of this is to better the outlook for the agriculture of the future—and to make it inevitable that the farmer of tomorrow will be a better crop scientist, a better business man, and more valuable citizen, than the farmer of yesterday.

TO THE AVERAGE MAN

This is addressed to men of average means who have been subjected to the widespread fallacy that the rich pay, or should pay, practically all of the taxes, and that the poor and moderately well-to-do receive, or should receive, the benefits of government for next to nothing.

Here are two facts for you to think over:

Eighty per cent of all taxes in this nation are "hidden"—that is, they represent part of the cost of articles and services, and must be paid by the consumer.

The total net taxable income—not taxes paid—of all American corporations in 1933, was $2,500,000,000. The total net taxable income of persons with net incomes in excess of $5,000 was $4,000,000,000. This makes a total of $6,500,000,000. The total cost of government, federal, state and local, was $15,500,000,000 in 1933. Result: If the government had confiscated the entire taxable income of all corporations and all individuals with a net income of $5,000 or more, there would have remained a tax bill of $9,000,000,000 to be paid by persons and businesses outside of these classifications.

cations. The fact that the tax bill was not paid in that year, much of it being added to the public debt, makes no difference—a day of reckoning must come eventually, whether we or our children face it.

The small-salaried man, the small investor, the laborer, the little business owner—these are the people who pay the major part of the cost of government. The price of a loaf of bread, for instance, includes the cost of 13 separate taxes, from the time the seed of grain is planted to when the finished, wrapped loaf reaches you. So it goes with clothing, light, tobacco—every luxury and necessity you use. Indirect taxation is one of the largest items in the cost of living and doing business.

You—the average man—would thus be the greatest beneficiary from a tax reduction program that really got results.

GOOD WILL ON THE ROAD

The Holiday season is a peculiarly fitting time to emphasize the obligations of every motorist. It is of more than passive interest that the Yuletide closes that quarter of the year when automobile accidents, deaths and injuries are at an annual peak, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. How horrible is the thought that as we approach the days when the sentiment, "Good Will to All," is glorified throughout the land, the carnage of wrecks and broken bodies is strewn more than ever over the face of our country.

A great deal has been said about the necessity of courtesy in driving as an accident preventive measure. Driving at speeds reasonable for conditions, sharing the road, passing properly, using correct hand signals, avoiding all those actions which make driving dangerous and uncomfortable for the other fellow; are the dictates of courtesy and manners. So, too, are they dictates of the principle of the good neighbor. Good driving, with a real desire to safeguard the lives of those exposed to the consequences of that driving, is practical Christianity. It is a kind of practical Christianity that followers of all creeds can subscribe to as they join in the common rejoicing at this Christmas season.

The first concern of the churches of America is the saving of souls. By entering with whole-hearted activity into the automobile safety movement, they can extend their activity to the saving of lives, without violating their first purpose. The blot upon a soul as a result of killing or maiming another through careless or heedless action, is one not easily erased. The churches have the advantage of being able to appeal to a great section of the drivers of the country on occasions when they are most receptive to the idea of good will as a driving maxim. The good neighbor on the road could well serve as a theme for a sermon in every church at this time of the year.

So long as selfishness and stupid recklessness, so long as death and destruction exist on our streets and highways, the ideal of peace on earth, good will toward men, will command little more than lip service.

FROM THE CRADLE TO THE GRAVE—TAXES

Here are two stanzas from a verse that has been making the rounds recently:

"When you light the evening lamp
You pay a tax.
When you buy a postage stamp
You pay a tax.
When you buy the baby clothes,
When you read the morning news,
When you buy a pair of shoes,
You pay a tax. . . ."

"When you buy an ice cream cone
You pay a tax.
For the water that you drink
You pay a tax.
When you buy a loaf of bread,
When the doctor says you're dead,
When the final prayers are said,
You pay a tax."

HIDDEN VALUE!

Prospecting reveals the hidden treasures of nature. Usage reveals the hidden value of a farm telephone. The prospector never knows when or where, if ever, his labor will be rewarded. The farmer, on the other hand, can be certain that his telephone will more than pay for itself. In times of doubt, uncertainty, or emergency the farmer can telephone without delay for advice, information or aid. The total savings and profits which the farmer can trace directly to use of his telephone often amount to more in actual dollars and cents than he pays for the service. Almost every day there is some use for the telephone that will save money. Let these savings grow and they become substantial—they are the telephone's hidden value!

It Earns . . . It Saves . . . It Protects

Well, the merchants have purchased little trees to decorate the side walks. Most all have decorated their windows and interior. A great Christmas spirit will prevail from now till Christmas, a spirit that ought to create some real home buying for our home merchants. You know we can't all go to Florida, so make it interesting for those that have to stay at home.

Early Traffic on Rhine

The Rhine in medieval days carried the shipping of the East; exotic spices and silks were brought up through Italy to the river, there loaded onto boats and so distributed to the lands of the North. The castles for which this region is famous were built for the most part during the Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries, and the barons who owned them preyed on the trade that passed along the river. When their "tolls" became too heavy the cities along the Rhine had to rise in revolt and go to war to protect their shipping.

Humor as Physiological Term

Humor is a fluid of the living body, of which Hippocrates enumerated four, namely, blood, phlegm, yellow bile and black bile. These were considered to be the principal seats of disease in man. In modern medicine humor is a term generally applied to the thinner fluids, whether natural or morbid, limpid, serous or sanious, such as the humors of the eye or the watery matter in a blister.

Gave First Minstrel Shows

The introduction of minstrel shows to the United States is credited to Thomas D. Rice (1803-1860), a white comedian who was inspired by the "Jim Crow" song of a negro stage driver to reproduce song and character in costume on the stage in Pittsburg in the early Nineteenth century.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Neoromany, Alas Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Demoneed," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 1.

The Golden Text was, "Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting" (Psalm 139:23, 24).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord; neither are there any works like unto thy works. All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name. For then art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone" (Psalm 84:8-10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We are prone to believe other in more than one Supreme Ruler or in some power less than God... When will the ages understand the Ego, and realize only one God, one Mind or Intelligence?" (p. 263-4)

FABRIC KNOWLEDGE
AIDS WISE BUYING

Fabric knowledge is part of your fashion education. The smart woman knows that. It isn't the initial cost of a dress, it's the upkeep that counts. When you are confident that your fabric will stay crisp; that your satins will hold their luster; that your chiffons will retain their loveliness and never get sleazy or sloppy; when you know that your sheers will hold their shape and that your crepes won't ultimately sag under an avalanche of beading or braid, that your drapes will stay in, and that your dapes will not sag—then, and only then, are you well dressed.

Women are rapidly learning to find out all these things before they buy a dress. They are learning to buy predictable merchandise.

U. S. Designers Following
Glittering Fabric Trend

The French started it, but American designers were quick to follow the new trend of glittering fabrics for afternoon and evening wear. A survey just made of American textiles discloses that every important manufacturer in New York has designed and presented materials to achieve unusual brilliant effects. Cabled reports on the first fall openings of the Paris dressmakers still further indicate the advent of sparkling fabrics.

FUR CAPES RICHER;
OF MANY VARIETIES

Fur capes are richer than they have been in years. Full-length evening models are made of strips of silver fox running from shoulder to hem—one very elegant one boasting twenty full sized animal skins. Knee-length day capes are fashioned of mink, silver fox, dyed red fox or minkskin, while any number of shorter capes appear in astrakhan, nutria or broadtail. Occasionally the fur capes for day wear are cut with broad shoulders and little fullness below so that they hang straight, though more often they have some flare.

New Soft Wool Weaves Are Proving Popular Just Now

With wool increasing in fashion importance, and women's insistence on being comfortable indoors as well as out, something pretty definite has been done in this year's weaves for the interests of all concerned.

This year's domestic weaves are as soft as chiffon, warm enough for all normal purposes, and have taken on an additional silky finish, adding to wearing enjoyment.

Colors have never been more flattering. That day has gone when winter means somber tones, and the "little wool frock" to wear underneath the tweed coat or the fur sport coat may be as gay and colorful as one's temperament demands.

Whiter Blouses

White silk blouses should never be hung out to dry as it will yellow them. Wrap them in towels until ironing. If they become yellowed in spite of your precaution, use a little whitening in the rinse water.

Sharp Contrast

Paris is wearing black afternoon frocks with billowy white sleeves—a style becoming to many women.

Origin of Words

According to one authority, about 20 per cent of the words in our dictionaries of today are of Anglo-Saxon origin, 35 per cent from the French, 15 per cent direct from Latin, 12 per cent from the Greek. In the King James version of the Bible, the Latin proportion is only 6 per cent.

Most, Almost

Most for almost is provincial English. The former means "greatest in any way"; the latter, "nearly"; "well-nigh"; "for the greatest part." One hears, almost daily, "Most all the time"; "Most anybody can tell you," forms that should be avoided. Do not say, "I'll come over most any day this week."—Literary Digest.

Grant Once Owned Slaves

General Grant was once a slave owner. He married Julia Dent when he returned from the Mexican war in 1849. Her father owned a number of slaves and the newlyweds were presented with a slave boy as a wedding present. The Dent family kept their slaves until the close of the Civil war.

Lines and Curves of Furniture

Straight lines create an effect of strength, virility and seriousness. Curved lines create an effect of flexibility, softness, grace and femininity. Horizontal lines arouse a sense of calmness and repose. Vertical lines create no effect of dignity.

Floor Traders

Floor traders are members of a stock exchange who buy and sell securities for their own account and who do not conduct transactions for clients. They are to be distinguished from the commission brokers whose exclusive function is to trade for the accounts of clients.

Large State in Brazil

Matto Grosso, with its 570,138 square miles, is the fourth largest state in Brazil. Until the trans-Brazilian railway was built the Paraguay river was practically the only means of access to this territory, much of which is still unexplored.

WITNESS TELLS OF NAPOLEON'S BURIAL

St. Helena Rites Described in Letter to Mother.

London.—Among the 1,300 British troops who assisted at the burial of Napoleon at St. Helena, May 15, 1821, was Lieut. Dumain Barroch, of the Twentieth Foot. The day after the ceremony he wrote his mother an account of it. Napoleon died May 5, and his body remained in its island tomb until 1840, when, by direction of King Louis Philippe, it was conveyed to Paris and placed in a magnificent sarcophagus under the dome of the Hotel des Invalides.

Lieutenant Barroch's letter has been published for the first time in "The Sunday Times" of London. The St. Helena mentioned in the letter, which is reprinted here, was Sir Hudson Lowe, who had been governor of St. Helena since 1810, shortly after Napoleon was interned there. The letter reads:

"We yesterday interred the remains of Napoleon Bonaparte with military honors. The funeral I will describe as best I can.

"In the first place, you must understand the figure of the ground near Longwood. The island (generally speaking) is composed of high and narrow diverging ridges of hills running, or rather diverging from Diana's Peak toward the coast, where they terminate abruptly in tremendous precipices; the valleys between these are very deep.

Chosen by Napoleon, "Longwood" is situated on one of these ridges, and the place Napoleon chose for his body to lie in was in the valley between that and James' valley, where the town is, and called, from its circular form, is called, fat least, near the head of it the Devil's Punch Bowl; the part near the sea is called Rupert's valley.

"The troops, of which there were about 1,300, were formed from Longwood Church house on the bank above the road in succession by seniority—Twentieth Marines, Sixty-sixth, St. Helena Artillery Regiment and Volunteers; on the left eleven guns of the Royal artillery as the firing party. We were in open order, resting on our arms reversed, drums playing the dirge.

"After a little while the procession appeared through the gate. First came the priest and Henry Bertrand, carrying the casket, after them, Doctor Arnott and the French doctor, next the undertakers, and then the body.

"The body of his own carriage had been taken off, and something like an open horse put in its place. He was drawn by four of his own horses with postillions in his imperial livery. There was a plain antechamber coffin, and instead of a pall his cloak was thrown over it. On the top was a large book with his sword lying on it.

"Napoleon Bertrand and the head waiter walked one on each side of the hearse; six of our grenadiers, without arms, marched on each side.

French Wear Black. "After the body came the lead horse, beautifully caparisoned; on either side rode Counts Bertrand and Montblanc; after them, a small carriage with the countess and two of her children in it. (All the French were in black). The naval and staff military officers followed, and as soon as the whole had passed the left of the rear, we rounded arms and followed.

"The troops did not go down into the valley, but formed in the road immediately over the grave, in the same order, resting on our arms while the ceremony went on.

"I must now describe the grave or tomb that was prepared for him. The spot that he chose is in the highest extremity of a small garden belonging to a Mr. Torbett; it is completely overhung for a space of about thirty square yards or more with five or six weeping willows, and a little on one side was a spring of the best water in the island, and which he used every day to send for.

"This runs down the valley; there is no stream perceptible; near the grave the moisture is just sufficient to keep the turf completely green and the place cool—here the grave was dug. Interior capacity was 12 feet deep, 8 feet long and 6 feet wide, surrounded by a wall about 3 feet thick all the way down and plastered with Roman cement to about 2 feet from the bottom and resting on blocks of stone. The stone coffin was constructed like a large stone box with the lid open and the lid resting on one of its edges.

Represent Life and Immortality. The asphodel and amaranth, flowers representing life and immortality respectively, have been transplanted in southern California with success.

Roman Emperors. Justinian, Vespasian, Macletian and Constantine all were Roman emperors.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

The most densely crowded block in this teeming city, as determined in a study made by the mayor's committee on city planning, of which Bernard S. Deutsch, president of the board of aldermen, is chairman, is not down on the lower East Side but up in Harlem. In it live 3,871 persons—a population equal to that of many a thriving community. The most crowded block lies between Lenox and Seventh avenues and One Hundred and Forty-second and One Hundred and Forty-third streets. It presents a solid brick front, with now and then a flag opening leading to a littered back yard. Most of the tenements date back to the previous century. Windows look out on those trashy yards or into kitchens with only the more fortunate having a view of the street. Since dumb waiters are seldom in working order the shafts are used as garbage chutes.

With the exception of a few small shopkeepers, the population of the most crowded block is colored. The average wage of a colored man is $20 a week. The average rental in Harlem is $35 a month. That means hundreds and roomers and doubling up, hence, the reason why the most crowded block is in Harlem. More than half the population, however, are on relief. Having nothing to do, they fall about the fronts of the buildings or sit in little dark rooms. Mothers go out to work when they can find employment. Children go to school with keys of their homes around their necks. After school, no one being at home to look after them, they play in streets and alleys. What that may mean in the future is not a pleasant thought.

Occasionally, even in mid Manhattan, the more humble receives recognition when they pass on. For instance, Nicholas Zapp, he was only a boot-black, yet government employees and newspaper men attended his funeral services. For 40 years, he had been the official shoe shiner of the large office, which houses customs men, coast guardsmen and ship news reporters. For 25 of those years, he had been the only person licensed to vend goods or personal services in the government buildings in Battery park. To one and all, he was "Nick."

ALL-TIME HIGH SET FOR U. S. PRISONERS

Record Roll Attributed to Liquor Tax Evasion.

Washington.—The increase in prison terms for violations of the liquor tax law, narcotic traffic, counterfeiting and motor vehicle thefts, and the anti-crime offensive of the Department of Justice—throughout the federal prison population to an all-time high this year.

On July 1 the prisons had the highest total ever recorded at the close of a fiscal year. On July 10 the total had climbed slightly to 15,012, according to figures of Sanford Bates, director of the federal bureau of prisons, after which there was a slight seasonal decline.

Federal prisoners, reformatories and camps received from the courts during the fiscal year 1935 a total of 11,000 prisoners, as compared with 8,775 in 1934 and 8,007 in 1933.

Liquor law violations are now sending many offenders to federal prisons virtually as many offenders as they did during the peak of prohibition enforcement. For the fiscal year 1935 there were 1,405 convictions. The treasury drives against violations of the internal revenue laws is the chief reason for the sharp upward movement.

The treasury offensive against counterfeiters, conducted with little publicity by its secret service, has also contributed to the current expansion in the federal prison population. During the depression years, counterfeiters have been active on a wide front.

The court commitments reflect the increase in their activity. In 1934, only 240 persons were convicted of counterfeiting and forgery of government obligations. In 1935, the number was 807; in 1934, the number was 1,254.

Narcotic offenses sent to federal prisons 1,621 persons during the fiscal year 1935, as compared with 1,321 in 1934, and violation of the motor vehicle Theft Act 1,071 persons in 1935. Commitments for other offenses in 1935 include the following: 12...

elder, 10; Immigration act, 355; Interstate commerce act, 311; Motor act, 119; and postal law, 830, with several hundred unclassified. These include kidnapping, now a federal offense.

If the court commitments continue to increase, the Department of Justice will soon need additional space to house the prison population committed to its care.

British Post Office Is Now 300 Years of Age

The British post office has reached the mature age of three hundred years. The king telegraphed his congratulations to the postmaster general, who in turn, telegraphed the message to the 23,000 post offices throughout the country.

It was in 1635 that Charles I. issued a commission to Thomas Withers, Esquire, to organize the internal mails of the country. These had, up to then, been carried in haphazard way by any body. There had been a makeshift system for royal correspondence to and from the court, but private mail was delivered only as a sideline.

Withers accordingly set up regular posts along the five main post roads out of London to Edinburgh, Norwich, Bristol, Exeter and Holyhead. The posts were dispatched once a week. For a single letter, one sheet of paper folded—there were no envelopes in those days—the postage was for under 8d unless two pence; for under 14d unless four pence; for over 14d unless six pence; to the Scottish border, eight pence. All letters were sent through London and all postage was paid there.

The total staff then numbered 47. Today the London staff dealing with mails only is more than 35,000. The post office of 1635 handled 20,000 letters a week. That of 1935 deals with 20,000,000 a day.

Aluminum

Aluminum was known for many years as the metal theoretically present in the compound known as alum, from whence comes its name. It was first isolated as a pure metal by Friedrich Wöhler about 1825.

Termite Builds Tunnels

The termite enters a building from nests in the ground and builds tunnels extending up to sills, joists, floors and interior trim. Here the pest sets to work eating its way through the wood, weakening the timber until it is a dangerous and uninhabitable building beyond repair.

Indian Reservations

Indian reservations were originally set up when the Indian problem was a large one. To some extent, the reservation system was a protective measure. It was felt that the white settlers would be safer from molestation if the Indians were concentrated and kept on the places set aside for them.

Waxed Paper Has Many Uses in Home

Many household tasks are made easier by the use of waxed paper. Its uses are manifold. Place a strip over each table to lay, measuring cups, spoons, etc. It will prevent liquids spilling through and soiling surface beneath. Saves dishwashing and cleaning sticky surfaces.

Use for sifting flour and sugar. Easy to lift back and forth.

Wrap around rolls, cakes, doughnuts, etc. Foods may be kept in same box without mixing of flavors.

Use to line tin for butter cakes. Saves greasing. Easy to remove cakes from this (while warm).

Carefully wrap cheese, fish, smoked meats, cucumbers or other foods with strong odors. They may be kept in the refrigerator, and pungent odors will not penetrate to other foods.

Wrap meats, cooked or uncooked. Bones will not tear through. Meat juices will not be absorbed. Cooked meats will not dry out and become hard.

Use on table under dolly, under vase of flowers or plant pot. Protect polished surface from injury by moisture.

Use to wrap seldom-used silverware. Silver will not tarnish and no polishing will be necessary.

Use to wrap sprinkled clothes. Goods not fast color will not transfer colors from one material to another. Clothes will remain moist longer and be easier to iron.

Use in the sickroom on the bedside table, under water glasses, dishes containing food, medicine bottles and flower-bowls. Surface of table will be dry and unstained.

Cover bandages or dressings, and clothes of patients and bed-clothes will be kept dry and unstained.

Cover wet packs or poultices. Moisture and medication will be kept in and clothing will not become damp or soiled.

Use to cover tops of lard jars. Lard will keep fresh, clean and free from dust, insects or mold.

Preparing Rug Materials

In preparing materials for rug rugs be sure to dye them all at the same time. In order that the colors will match. The different materials should be cut or torn lengthwise or crosswise since those cut on the bias have a tendency to pull apart. But it is not advisable to cut back and forth leaving an end since this leaves an uneven place in the rug. All strips should be sewed together. All hem, tucks, patches, buttonholes, etc., should be removed to prevent humps in the rug.

Cranberry Cream Cheese Sandwiches

2/3 cup quartered cooked cranberries
2 cream cheeses
Buttered bread
Blend carefully the cranberries and cream cheese and use as a filling for either white or Graham buttered bread.

Tang of Crimson Cranberry Adds Zest to These Dishes

AMERICA'S own fruit, the cranberry, is finding its way into many recipes nowadays. And what a noble contribution it makes! In a tapoca dessert, it's a perfect partner to the delicate smoothness of quick-cooking tapioca and lends the dessert a color to gladden the eye. In these muffins and in this gelatin dessert, the cranberry adds a crowning touch of deliciousness.

Cranberry Tapoca

1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup ten-minute cranberry sauce
1 cup whipped cream
1 tablespoon orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Drop tapioca into boiling salted water. Cook in double boiler five minutes, stirring occasionally. When cold, add ten-minute cranberry sauce, orange rind and juice. Lastly fold in whipped cream. Pour into glasses. Chill. Top with whipped cream.

Ten-minute Cranberry Sauce

1 pound or quart (8 cups) cranberries
3 cups water
1/4 to 1/2 cup sugar

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes; add cranberries and boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins

Delightful Pear Salad

Your salad days are not complete unless you have served this unusual stuffed pear salad. It has the most delightful holiday possibilities. A bit of holly on the plate or a ball or star outlined in cream cheese, colored red or green may garnish the surface of each pear.

6 whole pears for 12 slices
2 small heads lettuce
1/3 cup grapes, Malaga or Tokay
1 cup mayonnaise

Combine diced fruits and skinned and seeded grapes with mayonnaise. Cut ripe pears in half, cut out seeds and arrange halves to fill, or use canned half peaches. Fill halves with the fruit mixture and fit halves together. Put a clove in the blossom end and a stick of angelica in the stem end, garnish top and allow to chill thoroughly. To serve, arrange a pear with inverted cup of lettuce sprinkled with paprika or minced cranberries. Two small cups of lettuce and one pear is sufficient to a serving. Serves six.

Variation: Replace grapes with cooked, sweetened cranberries or canned cherries. If the salad is served at a hearty dinner allow only a half stuffed pear to a service. Arrange it with the pear side up and garnish with colored cream cheese. The same ingredients then serve 12.

Spice Cake

1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2/3 cup raisins
1 teaspoon soda
2 eggs beaten

Cream the butter and add the sugar, then the other ingredients and beat 2 minutes. Bake in layers.

Spicy Frosting

2 1/3 cups confectioner's sugar
4 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons hot coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix well and let stand 5 minutes, then beat well and frost cake.

Tested recipe—Mrs. Martin Erkman, Carmel, Illinois.

Election Cake

To one quart of bread dough, add 1/2 cup of melted butter, two cups brown sugar, three eggs, 1/2 teaspoon each of nutmeg, cinnamon, mace, cloves and a little salt. Let rise again. Cut down. Mold into loaves, rise and bake.

The Young 'Possum

At birth, the young 'possums are naked and flesh colored and very tiny. There may be as many as 14 of them, but somehow or other, only half that many survive.

Real Thrill Is in Sharing With Others

The holiday dinner will be doubly enjoyed by those homemakers who prepare baskets of the specially attractive tasty foods for some less fortunate family.

Pick out your shuro basket family ahead of time and get acquainted so you can give the youngsters of the family some of the holiday dainties they have been hungry for. One woman roasted two extra turkeys, one for each of the families she has elected to send dinner boxes to. There will be cranberry sauce, sliced sweet potatoes, mashed turnips, oranges, mince pies, cookies, candies and coffee in the basket.

The families to be taken care of know what is coming—in fact the mother of one family has the joy of helping with the buying and preparation. Make your share basket this year give as much real joy as possible.

Quick Fruit Bread

1 cup white flour
2/3 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 cups finely chopped figs and raisins
3 tablespoons shortening
2 cups Graham or whole wheat flour
2/3 cup finely chopped nut meats
2/3 cups molasses
1 1/3 cups milk

Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder, also the soda, add the Graham or whole wheat flour, work in the shortening, fruits and nut meats and moisten with the molasses and milk. Turn into a well greased bread pan, set aside for 15 minutes, then bake in a slow oven—325 degrees—about one hour.

Molded Vegetable Salad

Shred enough cabbage to make two cups. Cooked peas, canned or fresh to make 1/2 cup. Two carrots, scraped, cooked and sliced; two stalks celery cut in 1/2-inch pieces and blanched in ice water; strips of sweet green and red sweet peppers. Soak heaping tablespoon gelatin in cold water to cover. Dissolve a tablespoon sugar in 1/2 cup hot water, add the soaked gelatin, stirring until it dissolves, then add 1/2 cup vinegar. Mix the vegetables, be careful not to break the carrots. Mix in the gelatin mixture and turn all into a brick mold to harden.

Set in cold place for several hours. When ready to serve cut in 1/2-inch slices, put on a lettuce leaf, garnish with the strips of pepper and put on one side a spoon of stiff mayonnaise. Or the vegetables may be arranged in layers in a round mold and the gelatin turned in by degrees. This salad must be used the same day it is made, otherwise the cabbage grows too strong.

Duck-in-Apples

If you have had a roast duck and there are just a few fragments of meat still clinging to the bone, really not enough to serve as they are, yet altogether too good to throw away, try Duck-in-Apples for luncheon. Cut every fragment of meat from the bones, add a little of the dressing, if any was left, or failing this, substitute a few bread crumbs and a little poultry seasoning. Peel and remove the cores from tart apples, stuff them with the minced, seasoned meat, put a small piece of butter on top of each, place in a baking pan with just enough water to keep the apples from burning, and bake in a moderate oven—350-375 degrees F. until tender—about 45 minutes. Serve each one on a round of fried bread or toast, or with strips of fried cornmeal mush and a garnish of currant jelly.

Llama Long Domesticated
There is no record of the Peruvian llama ever having lived in a wild state. It is believed to be the oldest domesticated animal.

"Matcumbie," Indian Name
The name Matcumbie with reference to the Matcumbie Keys in Florida is derived from the language of the aboriginal Indian inhabitants and means place of sorrows.

The Wind
Wind at 40 miles an hour becomes a "moderate gale." A "fresh" gale has a velocity of 45 miles or above; a "strong" gale, 50; and a "whole" gale 60.

SEQUOIT CAGE SQUAD OPENS LEAGUE PLAY WITH GRANT FRIDAY

Upset Warren in Last Pre- league Tilt; 32-16; Report Fox Lakers as Strong

Antioch's Sequoits checked a 32 to 16 chunk out of Warren's Blue Devils last week in the final warm-up tilt before entertaining the Grant Community High basketball team from Fox Lake in the Northwest conference league opener to be played in the local gym Friday (tomorrow) night.

Coach Hoskins' Grant career with a dandy 15 to 11 victory registered over McHenry County's strong St. Mary's aggregation this season, will be making their debut in the Northwest conference. The Fox Lakers, a reported strong contender, have their power built around a nucleus of three big men. Again, a victory with a couple of upset baskets in the final spot. Back at hand and we can expect a forward as the other two seasons regular.

Antioch Shows Improvement

In last week's game, Coach R. H. Childers' squad showed a complete change of form to set tricky Coach R. P. Kelton's Warren quintet back on its heels. Passing and defense was more polished than that demonstrated in the Sequoits' previous session against Richmond.

Paul Richey was the head sharpshooter, totalling six markers from the field and a trio of counters from the gift circle to register 15 of Antioch's total points. The rest of the 32 points were swished through the net by Brown with eight, Brogan with four, Vykuta and Thill with two apiece and a free throw for one by Lutson.

Expect Battle at Warren

By collecting ten points for himself the veteran C. Phillip was Warren's chief threat from the array of 12 aspirants the Blue Devil mentor sent against Antioch. While his team appears rather small, Coach Kelton expects to have a much stronger team to battle up the Sequoits sharpshooters when Antioch invades Warren for the league tilt on Friday the Thirteenth.

In the curtain-raiser, Antioch's ponies added their second straight win by outpointing the Warren lights and will go after number three Friday when the Grant lights come to town. Grant's ponies knocked off St. Mary's lights to the tune of 17 to 6 Tuesday night at Fox Lake.

First American Architect

Charles Bulfinch (1755-1844) is often referred to as the first American architect. Ugly as a Mud Puddle

Some of the settlers of the Middle West tried to make fences of mud. Mud houses had been found practical. Fences were not, since they had no roots to protect them. They soon became unsightly holes of mud and tangled roots. A person or thing which is homely, is therefore likened to a mud fence.

Word was received this week that John Turnock, a Senior, was awarded seventh prize by the American Royal Live Stock Show in an essay contest which he entered. Turnock received a check for three dollars.

This year the Antioch F. F. A. Chapter challenged the Warren Chapter in a Pest Eradication contest. At the end of the first week Antioch was leading Warren by a score of 63 to 14. Sparrows, rats, mice, starlings and crows are being destroyed. The score is the number of points per member.

Several F. F. A. members received their premium money from the Antioch County Fair this week.

At the recent Sectional Vocational Fair held at Huntley, Illinois, the following boys received ribbons and premiums totalling $30.00:

John Turnock received a first, a second, two thirds, a fourth and a fifth ribbon as awards in the White Plymouth Rock classes.

Frank Verkest received a first in the Rhode Island Red classes.

William Craft was awarded two thirds, and a fifth in the Plymouth Rock classes.

Russell Doolittle was awarded $4.00 in premium money on his exhibits of Murdock corn. Robert Griffin was awarded a fourth place ribbon in the capon class.

Donald Minto, Arthur Houghton, Harold Randolph, Robert Hallways and Donald Ellerling were other exhibitors who placed winners from the Antioch school.
